Winter 2012 Newsletter

A Newsletter Sponsored by the Friends of the Florham Park Public Library

Second Sundays @ the Library Series

Our popular series continues in the New Year with organizational tips, a folk music concert, and a visit from Nellie Bly!

Sunday, January 8th

Visit the Florham Park Public Library and learn how to conquer clutter with tips, hints, and valuable advice from Linda Anders. Ms. Anders will show how to eliminate paper piles and find unused space in your home, perhaps helping you fulfill a New Year's resolution to finally get organized!

Sunday, February 12th

The Florham Park Library will host Spook Handy in concert. The award winning songwriter and recording artist will share some original tunes, as well as some by Pete Seeger and Peter, Paul and Mary. A few 60's and 70's folk songs will round out his repertoire and have you singing along. This program is fun for audiences of all ages.

Sunday, March 11th

Nellie Bly visits the library! The Traveling Stage Company Presents Women in History program will star Sharon Moran as America's first famous female newspaper reporter. Discover how Nellie Bly's determination and drive brought her into difficult and dangerous situations, leading her into the world of unscrupulous labor practices and giving her plenty of fodder for her articles. Find what she did to gain international fame, accomplishing what was considered impossible for a woman in those days.

The Second Sunday @ the Library Series is generously funded by Friends of the Florham Park Library. All programs start at 2PM. Please register for all programs by calling (973)377-2694 or email reference@florhamparklib.org.

Winter Programs For Adults

Avoid Knee and Hip Pain Thurs., Jan. 26th, 6:30 PM
